PLACE BAN ON PUBLIC DANCES

Following the example of practically all of the cities throughout the country, the Council on Thursday evening at their regular meeting, placed on its passage an ordinance to regulate all dance halls and dances, with a view to eliminate the objectionable dances which have been the cause of so much comment all over the world. The bill has the endorsement of Chief of Police Hurley and the Civic Association, and it is drafted from that of other cities and includes the regulations which have been enforced in Boston for some time. The Council were unanimously for the bill. The ordinance after passing its first reading was referred to the Committee on Bills on second reading, at the suggestion of Councilman Bennett who introduced the bill.

The following is the ordinance:

An ordinance providing for the regulation of public dances and the licensing and regulation of public dance halls.

Section 1.—The term "public dance" or "public hall" as used in this ordinance shall be taken to mean any dance or ball to which admission can be had by payment of a fee or by the purchase, possession or presentation of

YORK MAN DISAPPEARS

Said He Was Coming to This City, Since Then Nothing
Has Been Heard
From Him.

Arthur Donnell, a well known resident of York is among the missing, and his whereabouts are at present unknown. Without any explanation he left York last week, saying he was coming to this city, and since that time, nothing has been heard from him. He is said to have had about $100 with him at the time of his disappearance.

Donnell had been working on the house of Frank Donnell, at York Harbor, and had received, it is said, about one hundred dollars for the labor. He left town with the evident purpose of going to Portsmouth and returning in a few hours. Instead, he dropped from sight, and all efforts to locate him so far have failed.

Mrs. Donnell gave birth to a child shortly after her husband's disappearance and has been quite ill. No reason for the man's sudden disappearance has been advanced, except that worry may have unbalanced his mind.

SECOND TRIP FOR PRISONER

Local Officers Will Arrest Edgar Beach at Philadelphia
Tomorrow.

Sheriff Ceylon Spinney and Chief of Police Hurley left today on their second trip to Philadelphia to rearrest Edgar Beach, alias Thomas Bell, wanted for the robbery at the Studabaker residence at Little Boar's Head last summer. The officers are provided with extradition papers from the governors of Pennsylvania and New Hampshire and will produce the same when Beach is discharged from the county. Beach has retained a lawyer in Philadelphia, who may demand a hearing and some evidence that they are seeking to arrest the right man. In this case the affidavit of Mrs. Studebaker will be furnished. If this is not sufficient she will be summoned from South Bend, Ind.

SCHMIDT IS FOUND GUILTY

Must Go to the Chair for Kill- ing Anna Aumuller in New York.

New York, Feb. 5.—Hans Schmidt, was found guilty of murder today in the first degree for killing Anna Aumuller, a young woman, whom he had married by a self-performed ceremony while acting as a priest at St. Joseph's church.

The penalty of the crime is death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison. He will be sentenced next Wednesday.

Schmidt, whose defense was insanity, laughed bitterly when the verdict was pronounced. He had steadfastly declared himself guilty and at his arraignment before being held for the supreme court, pleaded that he be punished by death.

Later he protested against the insanity defense advanced by his counsel and tonight said he would not assist them in any way if they prepared an appeal.

"I would rather die tonight, than tomorrow," he said. "It is as it should be and I wish it."

This was the second trial and the jury was out a few minutes less than five hours. At the first trial the jury disagreed. Alcestis for prosecution and defense supplied most of the testimony at both trials.

A. G. Keeble of Schmidt's counsel, asserted after the verdict that owing to the former priest's persistent silence, concerning the crime, it has not been possible to place all the facts before the jury. He said Schmidt was not guilty of murder, but had shielded a physician after the woman's death.

She was not murdered, the lawyer declared. If the police would use every energy, he said, they could get at the truth. The lawyer was undecided whether he would take an appeal.

"Schmidt will never go to the electric chair," he said however.

Anna Aumuller's body was cut up with a knife in Schmidt's flat, Sept. 2 last and the pieces in several bundles, were thrown in the Hudson river, where they were found before suspicion was directed against Hans Schmidt. The head was never recovered. Schmidt in his confession to the police said he was commanded to make a sacrifice of the Aumuller girl's life by his patron, St. Elizabeth.

Dr. Ernest A. Murel, a dentist, Schmidt's friend and companion who was arrested shortly after the priest was accused of murder, was sentenced in October to seven years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, after his conviction for counterfeiting.

NEW CASTLE BRIDGE HEARING THIS EVENING

A public hearing before the County Commissioners on the question of freeing the New Castle toll bridges will be held in the probate court room in the new court house on State street this Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. This is one of the most important movements that has taken place in years. The citizens of New Castle, as well as Portsmouth, are very much in earnest in the matter. Under a law passed at the last session of the legislature the county commissioners became the judges to decide whether these bridges shall be free or not. The sentiment of the public and the desire of the people is evident which they should consider. The Portsmouth Board of Trade favors the movement, and President Sise will be present to advocate the movement. The original petition was signed by hundreds of our leading citizens who have decided that the only way for Portsmouth to make progress is to do away with some of its great drawbacks. It will be borne in mind that the movement simply means that the county will own the bridges to the benefit of the public, instead of having them owned by a private individual. The argument that the county cannot afford to do it does not gain much headway because it is believed that the county of Rockingham can well afford to bear the burden of these bridges. The county of course will have to pay a reasonable price for the bridges and so on. The act of freeing these New Castle bridges is within the power of the citizens of Portsmouth, and we are fortunate in this regard that two of Portsmouth's citizens constitute a majority of the county commissioners. If we do not free these bridges now they never will be freed. We cannot free the Kittery bridges without the concurrent cooperation of the State of Maine, but the New Castle bridges we have it in our power to free and it is our own fault if we do not do it.

Citizens of Portsmouth and New Castle should be present at this hearing.

THE UNITED STATES OFFICIALLY RATED THIRD IN NAVIES OF WORLD

Washington, Feb. 5.—That the United States Navy has been officially rated as third among the navies of the world in fighting strength and that rating has been made by United States naval experts themselves was the information given the House Committee on Naval Affairs yesterday by Representative Lemuel P. Padgett of Tennessee, chairman of the committee, in the course of additional testimony by Mr. Daniels, Secretary of the Navy. The six leading naval Powers were rated thus: Great Britain, Germany, United States, France, Japan and Russia. This information came as a reply to charges made by the "little navy" men on the committee, who have been fighting an increase in the navy by seeking to show that the United States is much stronger than official publications show, and that the United States navy really is stronger than that of Germany.

Mr. Daniels did not finish his testimony and will be before the committee again. The hearing was marked by many pauses between the "big navy" and the "little navy" men. Representative Samuel A. Witherspoon of Moultrieville, an ardent "little navy" man, questioned the Secretary for some time until Mr. Padgett took up the conduct of the examination. At the opening of the hearing, Representative Walter L. Hensley of Missouri made a statement in reply to charges by Representative Fred A. Britton of Illinois that the Secretary and other officials of the Navy Department had not been treated with sufficient courtesy. Mr. Hensley explained that he had no intention to be offensive, and he believed he could say the same thing for Mr. Witherspoon. While Mr. Witherspoon was conducting the examination he referred to Mr. Daniels as "the witness." Representative Richmond Pearson Hobson of Alabama and Mr. Britton both objected to Mr. Witherspoon's use of the word "witness" as discourteous. It has been customary to address the Secretary as "the Secretary" or "Mr. Secretary." Mr. Witherspoon said he had inadvertently used the term, having been accustomed to its use when he tried legal suits in Mississippi. He referred to Mr. Daniels as "the Secretary" thereafter.

One of the striking points brought out by Mr. Padgett was that the new style of twelve-inch fifty-calibre guns have twice the power of penetration of the old style twelve-inch thirty-five and forty-calibre guns, in the calculations of the "little navy" men they had assumed that all twelve-inch guns were equal for purposes of comparing the fighting strength of the various fleets. Mr. Padgett presented detailed statements concerning the lack of speed of some of the larger United States battleships and the fact that on account of this element some of the German vessels which were speedy and had effective thirteen-inch guns presented a greater total of fighting efficiency, than some of the United States dreadnaughts with which they had been compared by the "little navy" men.

Secretary Daniels also outlined the conduct of the Government navy yards. Representative Buchanan of Illinois questioned the Secretary about the proficiency of the present military direction of the work of the yards, declaring that the practice of placing naval officers as commandants in navy yards cost the Government the price of a battleship every year in efficiency. He urged that civilian experts be placed in charge of the yards. Secretary Daniels said the proposal presented a grave problem.

Use of Oil by the Navies. Figures have been submitted showing that in the last fiscal year the Government used 40,000 barrels of oil and that 700,000 were estimated for the next fiscal year. Lieutenant Commander Boyd said that in another year, under normal peace conditions training her niece from Vermont. On Monday night the beach people gave Mr. and Mrs. Littlefield a surprise party. Before departing for home they gave Mr. and Mrs. Littlefield a set of dishes.

No Place for Babies.

The parcel post is an institution of great value to the country, but the government would do well to guard against any tendency to turn it into a joke. When it comes to transporting babies and young children by mail it is carrying the thing too far. In Pennsylvania recently a baby was sent some distance by parcel post, and the other day a two-year-old boy was sent in a similar manner from Oklahoma to Kansas at a cost of 18 cents. It was necessary to transport him 25 miles over a rural route before he reached the railroad. He wore a tag about his neck bearing the directions, rode in the mail car with the clerks and reached his destination safe and sound.

This may be funny in a way, but it is not what the parcel post was established for and it will be a mistake on the part of the government to permit freak uses of the service. The privilege of sending large packages by mail at low rates is worth much and the people appreciate it, as is shown by the liberal use made of the parcel post, but if postmasters and clerks are to be bothered with the care of children passing through the mails some of their time and attention will be taken from their other duties and the postal service will suffer thereby.

The introduction of the parcel post has added much to the cares and responsibilities of postoffice officials and employees, and these should not be needlessly multiplied. The increasing size of packages that may be sent is creating a problem that will have to be solved before the system becomes in all respects what it should be, and there are those whose duties make them familiar with the subject who believe the time will come when separate receptacles for parcel post and ordinary mail matter will have to be used. As it is now many packages are damaged in transmission, owing to the mixing of the different classes of mail, and numerous changes will undoubtedly have to be made before the parcel post service can be considered perfect. And babies and young children should be ruled out right at the start.

The dueling pistols and other appurtenances of Jefferson Davis, which have been in possession of the government since the civil war, have been turned over to his daughter in Colorado, and the officials are also ready to restore the shawl and raglan which belonged to his wife, and which it has been said he wore at the time of his capture, if these are wanted by relatives. Verily, the war is over.

The Roman Catholic church is to censor plays in New York city. There will be no black list, but members of the church in good standing will not patronize plays that are not on the "white list." The chances are that this move will have its effect, and that it will go far to prove that the public has the regulation of the drama largely in its own hands.

A former congressman and his brother, both wealthy men, have pleaded guilty in New York to charges of smuggling and paid fines of $1,000 each. They were also sentenced to six months in jail, but the sentences were suspended. It is not the "ignorant foreigner" who is responsible for all the wrong doing in this country.

Those New York bank runners moved exactly the right institution when they tackled the Bank of Savings. They got their money as fast as they called for it, and the bank needed no assistance in the emergency, which was an emergency on the part of the depositors only.

This is considered the age of the young man, and yet a genius 66 years old has just been discovered in Berlin. He is a landscape painter and the critics are disposed to make a fuss over him. American youngsters from 45 years upward should take heart.

It didn't take long to change the administration in Peru the other day. The president was out of the capital city for a short time, and when he returned he found another man in his place. That is what might be pronounced the recall with a vengeance.

Miss Margaret Foley of Boston, a leading suffragist and prominent speaker in the cause, has been married. It is safe to assume that woman's rights will prevail in that home.

The period of "watchful waiting" having passed and the embargo having been lifted by President Wilson, we shall now see what we shall see in Mexico.

China may be a republic, but its purposes to stick to its old religion. And there are those who think its government has not been changed as much in fact as it has in form.

The Asiatic exclusion policy went down with a thud, but none too hard when all the circumstances are considered.

And the anti-suffragists are highly pleased with President Wilson.

Newest Type of Aeroplane and Man Who Flies Upside Down.

The illustration shows Charles P. Niles, the daring aviator, only twenty-four years old, who has astounded the flying world by looping the loop, flying straight downward and flying a half mile upside down with his engine stopped. He performed these feats in one continuous flight at Hempstead Plains, N. Y. The upper picture is that of the new hydroaeroplane made at Hammondsport, N. Y., which, built of mahogany, has a little cabin which thoroughly covers two passengers. The operator sits in this enclosure and steers. The front of the cabin has celluloid windows. This craft can be operated in a heavy sea, as no water can possibly reach the engine.

A GOOD SUM WAS REALIZED

Two Nights' Fair by Ladies of Christian Church at Rye Brought to a Successful Close.

The concluding evening of the two-night fair and festival held under the auspices of the Ladies' Social Union of the Christian church at Rye town hall showed a great success and the affair as a whole was most encouraging.

At 8 o'clock the farcical comedy in three acts, "Look Out for Paint," was presented by the following cast:

Hiram, Rodney, owner of "High-up Farm" Joseph O. Seavey

Percy Heartache, an artist Gay E. Caswell

Hickory Homespun, a bashful farmer who is well to do Frank Peel

Trotwell Roamer, a tramp who is also a painter Ralph Berry

Bill, a big boy who does the chores Turkey Johnson

Susan Rodney, Hiram's wife Miss Lena F. Foss

Helen Rodney, Hiram's daughter Miss Bertha Millette

Hattie Renwick, a stenographer just thirty and anxious to wed Miss Ethel Rand

Loelinda Whentchaff, a widow in love with Hickory Mrs. Joseph O. Seavey

The comedy was most laughable and was presented in an excellent manner which does credit to each individual in the cast. Special mention should be given to the orchestra, which consisted of Ernest Ashton, cornetist; Charles M. Rand, violin; Mrs. Shirley Philbrick, violinist; Mr. Chester Fogg, trombone.

The orchestra rendered selections during both evenings and between the acts, which was very pleasing to the audience.

PUBLICITY AND PURE FOODS

Publicity has done more to raise the standard of food products than has any other cause.

Today the leading advertised brands on the market are standards of food quality. Their names are household words standing for purity.

The use of these advertised brands is growing because they have made good.

It does not pay to advertise a poor food product—and the manufacturers and dealers know it.

It does bring immediate and continuous returns to call public attention to some good brand through the advertising column of a carefully read newspaper like The Herald.

Notice the food products that are advertised here from time to time, and you will see that they are the brands whose names are known the country over as standing for distinct quality and character.

It is a safe and profitable rule for you to give your patronage to the dealers who feature these advertised products.

AFTER SICKNESS OR OPERATION

It is a pathetic mistake to accept drugs or alcoholic mixtures when nature craves nourishment to repair the wasted body and restore the vigor of health.

For forty years the best physicians have relied on the wholesome predigested nourishment in SCOTT'S EMULSION which is totally free from alcohol or opiates.

Scott's Emulsion sharpens the appetite—renews blood—nourishes nerves—strengthens bones and restores the courage of health to make life bright.

Scott's Emulsion sets in action the very forces that promote health. Its purity, richness and strength has stood the test of forty years.

AMERICAN SHIPS MUST PAY FOR USING CANAL

President Wilson Says He Will Oppose Free Passage Act.

Washington, Feb. 5.—President Wilson announced today that he would endeavor to have repealed at the present session of congress, that provision of the Panama canal act which exempts American coastwise ships from the payment of tolls. He made his position clear in unequivocal terms.

The President believes the Payne-Arrowhead treaty with Great Britain guarantees equality of treatment to all nations in the matter of tolls, including the United States and that the United States is in honor bound to charge American vessels the same tolls it imposes upon those of foreign nations.

The President impressed upon his advisers that he would use every legitimate influence at his disposal to have the exemption clause eliminated from the Panama canal act.

The President's views will be carried out in the house with little difficulty, according to Representative Adamson, chairman of the interstate commerce committee, who said tonight that congress undoubtedly would act quickly by a "straight-out repeal."

Not certain, however, are some democratic leaders in the senate.

Senator O'Gorman, chairman of the inter-sea-canal committee which had charge of the bill, and who led the victorious fight in the senate to exempt American coastwise vessels from tolls, tonight declared his purpose to stand by his convictions and fight the President's desire.

Other senators pointed to the recent action of the foreign relations committee in recommending the British general arbitration treaty for extension as an indication that the senate is ready to rescind its action on the tolls question, fear of having to submit it to arbitration having delayed its extension by the senate last summer.

Senator Stone, who voted for the provision, has said he would vote for the repeal, taking the position that under the treaty the United States still has the right to levy any tolls it wishes the exemption should be stricken out in deference to international good feeling and in line with a desire to avoid any ill feeling with Great Britain.

The President's announcement grew out of a report that he did not seek action at the present congress.

Senator O'Gorman on leaving the White House today said he discussed the tolls question casually with the President and expressed the view that congress could do little else at the present session besides passing the trust bill and appropriation measures. The President sought to make clear today that this was Senator O'Gorman's own expression of the legislative situation but that so far as he was concerned he earnestly hoped for action at the present session.

There has been considerable talk in this connection of the resolution introduced by Representative Adamson, which would suspend for two years the operation of the exemption so that it might be definitely determined whether or not the canal could be self-supporting, and at the same time allow time for further diplomatic parley.

The President, however, has abandoned any idea of having the question suspended or postponed and wishes a settlement of it from the present congress so that the great waterway may be opened at the beginning of next year with the nations of the world on a basis of equality, and with friendship unimpeded by any impending issue of diplomacy.

The illness of Chairman Bacon of the senate foreign relations committee, which is holding up consideration of the arbitration treaties, including one with Great Britain, also may delay action in congress on the tolls question.

The President already has communicated his views on the subject of tolls to the committee.

There have been no developments on the diplomatic side of the controversy since the last note of Sir Edward Grey was received in the closing days of the Taft administration.

House leaders expect that the President will submit his views in a message to be read as soon as possible with a view to getting the repeal through congress as part of the administration legislative program.

CURRENT OPINION

Yearly Increase of Fifty Percent. In Shipbuilding in the United States.

I read somewhere recently that our shipyards are not teeming with orders for new vessels to use the canal, yet they have been and are so teeming. The report of the bureau of navigation shows that the total documented merchant shipping of the United States on June 30, 1913, comprised 27,070 vessels of 7,886,518 gross tons.

This is the largest tonnage in our history and, excepting the British Empire, exceeds that of any other two nations combined. Of the total tonnage, one million twenty-seven thousand seven hundred and seventy-six gross tons were registered, showing the largest American tonnage for foreign trade in twenty-seven years.

Even more auspicious is the fact that more than half of the year's increase was in tonnage for the foreign trade. Shipbuilding, too, prospered during the fiscal year, the output of our yards reaching 346,155 gross tons, an increase of fifty per cent. over the previous twelve months. Under the Panama canal act of Aug. 24, 1912, the privilege of American registry is free to foreign built ships not over five years old.

The apprehension so long felt or stimulated that free registry for the foreign trade would injure domestic industry has been dispelled, as after ten months' experience under free registry we are better off than before the law was enacted and face a future of abundant promise. The difference in the cost of building vessels for foreign trade of the United States and abroad has been largely eliminated, and in consequence we are a long step nearer a normal share in the world's ocean carrying trade.—Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield.

GIRLS' CLUB NOTES.

On Thursday evening, the regular monthly business meeting was held in the club rooms. The reports were read and accepted; committees appointed for the ensuing month, and plans were made for the raising of necessary funds to send four delegates to New York City to the convention of Girls' Clubs held in May. One plan was that each girl would earn fifty cents and ten in what way she earned it at the experience party; another group of girls will give dancing parties and still another will give a series of ten-cent tins.

The delegates will be chosen by preferential vote on the regular monthly meeting in March.

MEXICAN BANDIT CREATES HAVOC

Bent on Vengeance He Sets Fire to Drake Tunnel and Burns Railroad Bridge.

Juarez, Mex., Feb. 5—Mexico Castillo, the bandit leader after 22 of his men had been captured, and executed by a revolutionary force at El Valle, near Casas Grandes, today, set fire to the woodstock of the Drake Tunnel which carries the Mexico Northwestern railroad through the continental divide, and escaped to the mountains, according to an official report received today.

The Drake tunnel runs through soft earth and the burning of the wooden sheathing may entail heavy loss by cave-ins.

Castillo, a joint product of predatory instincts and thwarted ambition, formerly was the chief of the bodyguard of Francisco Madero, the late president of Mexico. In the present revolution he and his band of fifty or sixty followers have been raiding non-combatants.

Just how the capture of the bandit detachment was accomplished was not stated in the report. In his retreat however, Castillo wrought whatever revenge he could. He ran ten cars of lumber into the tunnel, says the report, and set fire to the train. He could carry from a car loaded with supplies, run the car on a high wooden bridge and set fire to the car, which, with the bridge, was destroyed.

With the flames behind him, the marauder turned attention to the last remaining detail of the destruction of two locomotives which he had found on a siding. There road here runs through lofty mountains and deep canyons. The rails turn sharply through the hills and there are many high grades.

Down one of these Castillo set the locomotives. Their momentum was to the point when they reached a sharp curve and left the track, shot over the embankment, and fell a tangled mass of wreckage 1000 feet below.

The rebels today placed an order capturing and 5000 rounds of shrapnel shell for use in the campaign against Torreon. In addition they hope to obtain much of the supply of rifles and ammunition impounded by the United States government in the last two years in time for use in the movement southward.

Although El Paso will be the chief point through which General Francisco Villa will transport ammunition and arms for his attacks on Torreon, comparatively few arms were brought over from the American side today. The Billing of the embargo found dealers in El Paso unprepared to supply arms in any quantity.

From Chihuahua came word that General Villa might return to the border for a few days to facilitate the purchase of ammunition. One carload was ready to be taken across the river when it was tapped because it had not been paid for.

The rebels also have to contend with a band of alleged Huerta sympathizers who were reported to have crossed from Texas at a point east of Juarez. This band commanded by Silvestro Juarez, a former federal volunteer officer, is said to have gone on a bush-whacking expedition to annoy the rear of the federals. In their march south.

A REALLY TASTELESS CASTOR OIL AT LAST

Good bye drugs and pills! The perfect laxative has arrived—Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil—made tasteless by a method which chemicals have tried to find for 3000 years.

This is not a flavored or disguised castor oil. It is just pure castor oil without taste or odor.

Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil is a better castor oil than the old evil-tasting, evil-smelling kind. While none of the taste remains, none of the good has been taken out. Kellogg's Tasteless operates quickly and freely, without gripping, causes no gas and does not turn the stomach. Children take it easily and retain it.

The drug stores have all been supplied. You have only to ask for Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil, 25c or 50c size. It is not sold in bulk. The trade mark is a green castor leaf on the label, bearing the Kellogg signature.

Made only by Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc., of Buffalo, dealers in vegetable oils for four generations.

Arrangements are under way for a reunion of the entire fire department. The affair will be in the form of a banquet and entertainment at a date to be named within a short time. Chief Engineer Woods is a great believer in harmony among the men and since he became the field head of the department he has accomplished much in that respect.

As one prominent member of the department said today: "The men are really not acquainted with each other, and only get together at a fire or when one company invites another to a feed at the engine houses."

The "get together" move is a good idea. The banquet will be held in Freeman's Hall and those in charge are arranging the details that go to make up a good time.

STRENGTH OF THE STUBBORN

Mrs. Wilson's Maid Had Her Own Reason for Leaving

How much perfectly good, serviceable will-power people waste in mere obstinacy! Martha Malone, after working three years for Mrs. Bixby, appeared one morning at Mrs. Bixby's back door and applied for a place.

"Why?" said the surprised Mrs. Wilson. "I thought you were working for Mrs. Bixby."

"I was mom. But I've quit."

"Is that so?" Mrs. Wilson could not conceal her surprise. "I thought you liked her."

"Indeed I do, mom."

"And I'm sure she liked you."

"I believe she did mom. Leastwise she always seemed to."

"Well—" Mrs. Wilson was still wondering what the trouble had been.

from the Boston & Maine Railroad and return to Portland as president of the Maine Central Railroad Company.

Mr. McDonald became president of the Boston & Maine on July 3 last, succeeding Charles S. Mellen. While holding that position he has continued to serve as president of the Maine Central and its subsidiary companies in Maine.

TOO MUCH SUPERVISION

Morris McDonald has resigned as president of the Boston & Maine railroad, but will retain the presidency of the Maine Central Railroad. The announcement of the decision to elect to continue as president of the Maine Central instead of closing the presidency of the Boston & Maine was made this noon at the North Station and confirmed in Portland, where Mr. McDonald is today.

After Interstate Commissioner Prouty and the Public Service Commissioners of four of the New England states recommended that Mr. McDonald give up one of the two executive positions, it was inevitable that he should make a choice. Rumors that he preferred to stay with the Maine Central have been current for several days.

It is understood that Mr. McDonald has not been happy in his place at the head of the Boston & Maine, as he has not been permitted to be as much of an executive as he would like to be. For several months members of the board of directors have been at the North Station every week day and have taken a large part in the details of the management of the company. It is known that Mr. McDonald has not cared for such immediate supervising as he has been receiving from the Boston & Maine directors.

Maine Central is My First Love.
 When Commissioner Prouty and his associates had Mr. McDonald before them he answered their question with regard to his disposition toward the two railroads in this statement: "I will not resign from the Maine Central. That is my first love."

The retirement of Mr. McDonald from the Boston & Maine has no connection with the proposed segregation of that company from the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad. But his return to the Maine Central does forecast the sale by the Boston & Maine of its stock in the Maine Central.

The Boston & Maine management expected to dispose of its Maine Central holdings to that company at par in exchange for mortgage bonds, but that was found to be illegal, and the plan was abandoned.

Such, however, that between now and June it must part with its Maine Central stock in order to raise money.

Can Find Purchaser for Stock.

Mr. McDonald is aware of the intentions of the Boston & Maine directors to dispose of the majority of the capital stock of the Maine Central which it owns. As the stock could not be sold to the Maine Central, it is to be disposed of to other customers.

Mr. McDonald has stated that if the Boston & Maine wished to sell its Maine Central stock he could find a purchaser, and the understanding is that he will have a large part in the negotiations later for the marketing of the securities. By the surrender of the control of the Maine Central by the Boston & Maine, Mr. McDonald, as president of the former railroad, would be in supreme command of the property. This is a situation which he has looked forward to with gratification, as he much prefers to be given a freer hand than he would have in the Boston & Maine during the reorganization process.

Mr. McDonald was elected president of the Boston & Maine last summer when Charles S. Mellen retired. Previous to that date, on Mr. Mellen as president of the Maine Central, Mr. McDonald was promoted from general manager to that office.

The Boston & Maine railroad owns 150,601 shares, a majority of the stock of the Maine Central. With these shares in the hands of persons favorable to the administration of Mr. McDonald, he will be able to operate the railroad independently of the Boston & Maine.

NO PROVISION FOR PAYMENT

Vice Pres. Hobbs Hopes That Remaining Tenth of Boston & Maine Notes Will be Extended.

Vice Pres. W. J. Hobbs of the Boston & Maine Railroad consulted Treasurer H. E. Fisher today in regard to the accuracy of the statements accredited to him in the morning and evening papers that 98 per cent of the notes of the Boston & Maine Railroad had agreed to extend. Mr. Fisher said: "This is due to some misunderstanding. For it is contrary to fact."

At present, writing somewhat over 90 per cent of the notes have actually been presented for extension, and agreements are in hand covering over 100 per cent more."

Mr. Hobbs then added that many of the notes have not yet been turned in at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., and it is therefore impossible to state whether or not the holders of these will extend. It is hoped that when it is found no provision has been made by the railroad or the bankers for payment that these holders will take the new notes. By so doing they in no way prejudice their position, and will afford time to those in charge of the property to reorganize.

over the Boston & Maine holdings of the New York, New Haven & Hartford, under the plan agreed to by Attorney General McReynolds and Chairman Elliott of the New Haven

Mr. Brandeis conferred with Atty. Gen. McReynolds today and although no announcement was made at the re-appearance of Justice, it was understood that he was asked to become chairman of the trustees. Other trustees have not been selected but it is possible that two or four more will be chosen.

Mr. Brandeis has taken an especial interest in the affairs of the New Haven for many years and is thoroughly familiar with the details of its acquisition of the Boston & Maine.

Although details of the plan for separating the New Haven from the Boston & Maine have not been worked out, the trusteeship would last for several years and the stock of the Boston & Maine owned by the New Haven would gradually be disposed of to others.

It is not the intention of Atty. Gen. McReynolds to name the trustees to handle the property, but he does expect the opportunity to appoint any men chosen by the New Haven.

PRaised BY HOUSEWIVES

The fame of the Gold Dust twins has spread, so far, and their reputations have become so general that almost every mail brings to the N. K. Fairbanks Company, Chicago, letters of praise from tired housewives who have lightened their work with Gold Dust.

"I want you to know and to thank you for your wonderful discovery of Gold Dust," said Mrs. Louis W. Batty, Kropperson, Ill., in a recent letter to the Fairbanks Company. "I could not keep house without it in my kitchen work, and washings are a hundred per cent lighter since using Gold Dust. When I first began keeping house I used all kinds of recipes for washing, but to no avail. I really thought I could never continue to do my washings under the old way of washing clothes until I tried Gold Dust. Now my washings are done in half, yes less than half the time, and they are clean, too, and I don't feel tired out as I did before. I often think that if you were going to stop making Gold Dust, I would be tempted to lay in a great supply to last forever."

"I am really thankful for the Gold Dust and recommend it whenever I have the opportunity."
